Long, long time ago, in Ancient Greece, there was a king, Sisyphus. The king was very intelligent, but he is cruel and dishonest.

At that time, Zeus, the king of Gods asked all kings of the earth to treat their guests from other countries well. However, Sisyphus didn't do so, he even killed some of his guests. So, Zeus wanted Sisyphus to die.

He then ordered Death to take Sisyphus to the underworld. But the intelligent king, Sisyphus had an idea. He tricked Death and locked him up in a jail. This keeps people on earth from dying. Soon, there were too many people living on earth. The God of War found this and he freed Death.

Sisyphus knew Death would come for him, he decided to make use of Persephone, queen of the underworld. Sisyphus asked her to allow him to leave for one day because Sisyphus loved his wife so much that he had to speak to her before he died. Sisyphus also promised to come back after speaking to his wife. Persephone felt touched and she believed him. But Sisyphus never came back.

Zeus was very angry, but he could do nothing. He could only wait until Sisyphus die. Finally, Sisyphus died, Death got him to the underground, and Zeus punished the proud king to roll a rock up to a hill for all the time.
