　　Long time ago, a group of mice lived on a farm. Later, a big cat moved to the farm. The cat always tried to eat the mice. So, the mice didn't want to go outside. Then one mouse said," I have an idea. Let's put a bell around the cat's neck. When the bell makes a sound, we'll know the cat is near and we can hide." " That sounds like a good idea," said another mouse.

　　Then one mouse asked," Who will put the bell on the cat?" None of the mice wanted to do it. " It's easy to say but hard to do," they said. They were scared to get close to the cat. After all, it could kill them easily. In the end, they gave up.

　　There is a lesson in the story. If you have a plan, don't just think about the good results. You must also think about how to make the plan work.
