二、題組。

Hi Steven,

How are you? It was nice and sunny today in Australia. It was our first day here. We visited the Wildland this morning. There were many special and beautiful animals there. It was also my first time to see the sloth. Did you see it before? Sloths are animals, and they always live in trees. They eat, sleep, and even have babies on the branches. Sloths only leave their branches for two reasons: to go swimming or to go to the bathroom. They look very cute and lazy. I like them very much. After lunch, my family and I visited a big fruit farm. We picked many apples and joined the apple pie contest. I really enjoyed the trip. We are going back to Taipei on Saturday. See you then!

Sleepwalking happens during a person's deep sleep. A sleepwalker gets up from bed when he is still sleeping.
When a sleepwalker is walking in sleep, he may talk or shout with his eyes open. A sleepwalker may do weird things during sleep. For example, he might climb out of a window, move a sofa desk around the house, go outside, or even pee in the trash can.

When you see someone sleepwalking, don't wake him up because he might attack you. Just walk near him and make sure he is safe. Turn him in the way to bed. A sleepwalker may suddenly wake up at any other places, but usually he goes back to bed before he wakes up. After he wakes up, he seldom remembers anything.

Tony: Hi, Jerry. How was your summer vacation?

Jerry: It was very tiring but great. I spent my vacation in Malaysia.

Tony: Wow! Did you visit many beautiful places?

Jerry: Not really. In fact, I wasn't going there for fun. I worked with Hope Work. Hope Work volunteers teach children in poor villages to read and write. We also taught older children to use computers.

Tony: No wonder it was tiring. By the way, you didn't get money for your work, right?

Jerry: That's right. We were all volunteers. In our group, some volunteers even built schoolhouses.

Tony: That sounds meaningful. Maybe I can be a volunteer for Hope Work next year.

Hello, everyone! My name is Ben. I would like to share my daily life with all of you.

Yesterday was our spring-cleaning day. My family woke up early in the morning and started to clean our house. I tidied my bedroom in the morning. My bedroom was messy. There were clothes all over my bed, and some trash was on my desk. I didn't think of cleaning them up because I was so lazy. I spent three hours cleaning my bedroom.

I should always keep my bedroom clean, so I would not be so tired after cleaning. In the afternoon, I washed the windows and fans, mopped the floor, and cleaned the coffee table in the living room. I spent four hours doing them in the afternoon.

At night, we went out and had dinner in a five-star hotel restaurant. I should always keep my room clean. Next time I don't want to spend so much time cleaning the house.

This is the end of my sharing, thanks for your time!
