Smartwool is a special company. The owner, John Ramsey, wants to help the Earth, and wants his products to be good for the environment, so he made a plan and called "Second Cut." He collected any brands of old socks, and used them to make new things. If the socks are from Smartwool, he will mix the old wool with new one to make new wool hiking socks. If the socks are from other brands, he will make pet beds for camping. So far, "Second Cut" stopped over 720,000 pairs of socks from going to the trash. But, it's hard for people to send their old socks to the company. Many socks still are the trash. Moreover, not many consumers want to wear the socks, and these socks were worn on someone else's feet before. This is the biggest problem of this plan.

Dear Diary,

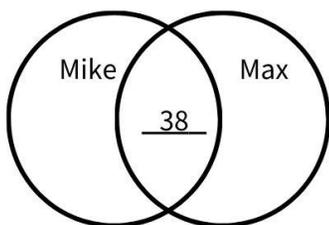

Today, I want to talk about my best friend, Mike, but we are very different. Mike is amazing at sports. He can jump higher and run faster than anyone else in our class. He's the star player on our school basketball team. Every weekend, you can see him practice in the gym. On the other hand, sports are not my cup of tea. I always come in last in every running race, and I'm not good at basketball at all. But I never miss any of Mike's games. When he has a game, I'm always there to cheer for him. I am his number one fan. What am I good at? Well, in my free time, I love writing stories and sharing them on my blog. I have about two hundred followers. Mike can't sit quietly for more than half an hour, but he loves being my first reader. People often say, "Friends should have a lot in common." Though, Mike and I don't have much in common. He talks a lot, but I am more on the quiet side. Our interests might not be the same, but we are still best friends and care about each other a lot.

Here are some cards for Jessie.

Hey, Jessie. You, Daddy, and Cathy are the most important people in my life. Mom died when I was little, so I remember few things about her. To me, you're just like my mother. I'm so excited you'll live with us!

Hi, Jessie. Thank you for everything you did for us. After Mom died, you are keeping us together. You brought our funny, smiling dad back. You made our house a lovely warm home. To me, you're already family.

Hello, Jessie. You know I wasn't happy about you and Steve at first. For a mother, a man with two kids is never good enough for her daughter. But after seeing how you four get along together, I started thinking maybe you do know what you're doing. You have my best wishes, my dear girl.

Hi! Jessie. I'm so happy for you and Steve! I still can't believe it! My best friend and my brother! Be happy on your big day and all the days after!
