The fire in Australia started burning in July, 2019. The bushfire causes many kinds of wild animals death like koalas because most of their home and food are totally destroyed. Badly, besides Australia, two of the world's biggest rainforests also burned in 2019. In Brazil, the Amazon Rainforest burned for 9 months. And Central Africa even has more times of forest fires than the Amazon.

Many scientists think the reason for all the fires is global warming. The temperature of the Earth is rising, and it may cause more serious disasters. Hopefully, people can try stop hurting the Earth anymore and do something good for it.
