G: The factory made the air dirtier, so many flowers and trees died. Nobody wants to go there anymore. It's better to wear a mask when you go out because of the bad air in my hometown.

B: No wonder I see many people wear the masks here.

G: My hometown is really in big trouble.

Q: What can we see in Tina's hometown now ?

12. B: My name is Mike. I'm in junior high school. I didn't like to read, so I never went to the library. Last week I had to do a science report. I didn't have any ideas what topic to write about. So, I went to the library. I found hundreds of topics for my report. I never thought that the library was useful.

Q: What did Mike think of the library before his report?

13. W: Hello. How can I help you?

M: Hi. I need a ticket to Taipei tomorrow. When is the first train?

W: The earliest train is at 6:45 a.m. and it will arrive in Taipei at 8:00 a.m.

M: 6:45 a.m. is a little too early. What about the next train?

W: Hmm ... the next train to Taipei is at 7:15 a.m. That's thirty minutes later than the first one.

M: That's good. I'll get the ticket for that train.

Q: What time is the man's train to Taipei?

14. M: The mountain near our house used to be beautiful and there were always a lot of people hiking on weekends. But, too many people left their trash on the rails, so now it looks and smells like a garbage dump. No one comes there anymore. Not even birds go there anymore after it becomes dirty. There are few visitors now, and I can't see any birds flying around. Every Sunday, my friends and I go there to pick up trash. If you are free, come and join us!

Q: What does the man do on Sundays?

15. W: Welcome to Fruit Paradise. How can I help you?

M: Can I have a cup of watermelon juice and two cups of strawberry milk?

W: Sure. How would you like your juice?

M: Quarter sugar and less ice, please.

W: No problem. They are ninety dollars. By the way, we don't give plastic bags or straws anymore, but you can get free paper straws at the supermarket on the corner.

M: OK. Thank you.

Q: What can the man get for free at the supermarket?
